America, as the only disinterested great power, could have taken sole charge of Constantinople, after the armistice, it might be a fine, clean.

Milan, Aug. 28.—"Italy is staking its hopes on the defeat of the Soviet armies before Warsaw because it will mean the mortal defeat of the Soviet idea in Italy." This is the viewpoint of Senator Lodovico Garage. Heck, former American High Com-missioner told the Public Ledger as he stood on the deck of the Italian liner Leopolis slowly steaming up the Golden Horn between the minister of the interior, gave voice the disappointed hopes of the Turkish nation.

Needs Unified Control.

There cam indeed, be no doubt that Constantinople stands in dire need of unified, disinterested con-trol, and that if it does not get it trol, and that if it does not get it soon, its political and economic future is dark. The inter-allied administration since the armistice is not proving a success. So many "commissions," invested with ill-defined powers and conflicting authority, have been created that action is paralyzed in every direction. There are so many masters and unfortunately, all the present set with its difficult to sugard unfortunately. thority, have been created that action is paralyzed in every direction.
